

SLÄTTÖ

Internship – Sustainability and Communication in private equity real estate

Do you want to gain experience from a private equity firm, supporting an ambitious sustainability agenda in a fast-growing environment with a committed and entrepreneurial team?

Join us for an internship!

About Slättö

Slättö is a fast-growing Nordic real estate private equity firm. Since 2013, we have raised eight funds and have completed more than 200 transactions with a total value of EUR 4 bn. The firm is actively seeking to grow the team with top talents that have an entrepreneurial spirit, a strong will to perform and a genuine interest in private equity. We are a growing team, currently +55 people based out of Sweden, Finland and Denmark. We want to be a leader in sustainability and have committed to Science Based Targets to ensure we are part of climate solutions in real estate.

What can we offer you?

We offer you an internship starting from January 2025 until June 2025 with opportunities for extension until December 2025. The position is part-time with flexible working hours (40-50% of a full-time position) in our central Stockholm office, but it is also possible full-time. You will work together with colleagues in different functions of the firm, from the investment team to fund management, asset management within the business segments, financing and investor relations. It is an excellent opportunity to apply your academic knowledge in real estate, business or finance and learn key skills.

About the job

- Work on profitable business cases for the climate transition in real estate.
- Help integrate sustainability goals across the business and within investments.
- Contribute to reporting performance.
- Engage in communication and marketing activities to Slättö's key stakeholders, such as investors and banks.
- Support with research and project management.

Impact

Real estate is a key sector for the economy and society. The industry stands for about a third of global greenhouse gas emissions, but it is possible to drastically cut climate impact. You will contribute to this and other sustainability challenges. Read more on Slättö.se and in our Sustainability Report.

Who are you?

- You are a student in your 2nd to 4th year in studies within real estate, finance or business administration.
- You have a genuine interest in sustainability and how it can be a driver of business.
- You are analytical, curious and have a business-oriented mindset.
- You are a team player with problem solving skills and a genuine interest in private equity.
- You thrive in an entrepreneurial, high paced environment where your ideas and thoughts are valued.
- You have good knowledge of Excel and PowerPoint.
- You have a good ability to express yourself in speech and writing, both in Swedish and in English.
